The World Of Stamps

By James B. Hatcher

Two thousand years ago Augustus Caesar was born in Rome. This month collects the Italian pages of their albums to bring two new sets of stamps from Rome, commemorating his bicentenary.

Italy is celebrating this date also with a large exposition of international Rome.

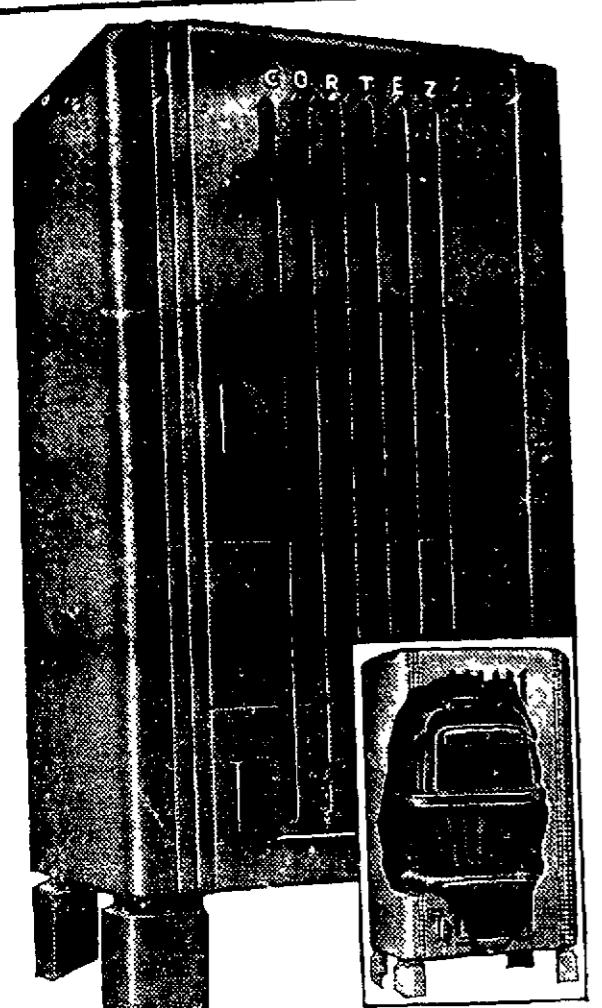

"We must go back to a time when Mussolini, to find a spectacle that compares with what Italy offers today."

Augustus was born September 23, 63 B. C. The grand nephew of Julius Caesar, who made him his heir Octavian, as he was known then, became first emperor of Rome in 27 B. C. He was ruthless in attaining his power, John Miller, of Lomontville Assemblyman Conway carried Kingston by 1,381.

NEW WARDS STORE WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Everything in Readiness For Opening Day Crowds

Staff of 250 People to Serve Customers—
Thousands Spent in Kingston for New Store—New Plant One of Largest in Ward Company.

The second floor photograph shows the Montgomery Ward furniture department which will house the furniture, rugs, curtain and drapery departments. Also located on this floor are the store offices, time payment department and the cashier's section. To the extreme right of the store facing back on this floor are located the public rest rooms as well as the employees' rest rooms.

Modernly equipped and illuminated by scores of electric lights the main floor of the Montgomery Ward store will present to the shopper a store second to none in this locality. On this floor will be the men's clothing and furnishing department, hosiery, lingerie, infants' wear, cosmetics, bedding, blankets, work clothing and shoe departments as well as the fashion department which will include women's coats, dresses and hat department. Sportswear and related departments will also be found on this floor.

In the first basement of the store will be found several departments, including the stove department, major electric appliance department, plumbing and heating equipment and the housewear department which is shown in the above photograph. In addition there will be the sporting goods department, tires and automobile accessory, farm machinery, radio department and storage and service rooms. Elevator service as well as numerous stairways will give access from floor to floor and an elevator service will be maintained to the sub-basement which will give direct access to the parking space at the rear.

Ward's beautiful "quality" store opens at North Front street Thursday, November 4. The opening, by all indications, will be a very gala event in that it is one of Wards biggest openings. Many Ward officials will be in Kingston Thursday for the ceremony.

Of great interest to Kingston is the fact that 250 Kingston people will be employed in the new store. A. J. Cordeau is the new store manager. Mr. Cordeau in describing the new store expressed the fact that he is quite pleased, not only in being the new store manager, but also because of the fact that he is stationed in Kingston. Mr. Cordeau came to Kingston three months ago. He expressed his appreciation for the congeniality and cooperation he has received from the Kingston people since he has been here.

Assistant managers of the new Ward store are David Wark and Frank Serrani. Mr. Cordeau stated he was fortunate in having these two men as assistants. The new store promises to be spacious and modern in every detail. The building was formerly occupied by "Rose & Gorman", the largest department store in Ulster county. The building has five floors with 57,000 square feet of floor space. It is equipped with all modern conveniences.

Merchandising facilities are of the very best. Display windows have ample space for 12 different unit displays at one time, complete with modern backgrounds. Enough space is available so that a complete warehouse and stockroom is situated right in the building.

To meet the needs of Kingston, Mr. Cordeau announced that Wards will feature the best quality merchandise. Wards carry complete stocks in all three price ranges. The good quality merchandise for those who must watch their budget closely. The better quality merchandise for those who desire longer wear and finer appearance. The best quality merchandise for those who desire the finest merchandise obtainable.

New lines that will be featured in Wards new store will be: Trolletries, showing a large selection of cosmetics; a new infants' department (to glorify baby); new auto service department; new building material department; new fashion accessory department (to supply the fashionable young Miss); new ladies' sportswear department and a lighting fixture department.

Those departments destined to attract the most attention because of their exceptionally large and complete stocks are: Fashion departments; furniture and rug departments; men's furnishings department; sporting goods department; tire and auto accessories store; stove store; the greatly enlarged housewares department and the modern shoe department carrying a larger and more varied line, equipped with 54 individual seats.

Selling space in Wards new store covers 44,418 square feet. The basement is a complete hardware store. Departments on this floor include: Sporting Goods, Plumbing and Heating, Paints, General Hardware, Stoves, Radios, Washers and Farm Equipment. The first floor is a complete family apparel store. Departments on this floor include: Infants' Wear, Women's Hosiery, Lingerie, Piece Goods, Trolletries, Women's Fashions, Millinery, Shoes for the entire family, Men's Apparel and Men's Work Clothes.

The second floor is a complete home furnishing store. Departments of this floor include: Furniture, (carrying complete lines of furniture); Bedding, Floor Coverings, and the Curtains and Drapes Department.

Mr. Cordeau stated that while a store in Kingston is a big asset to Wards, at the same time Wards store is a big asset to Kingston in that Wards will spend large amounts in Kingston every year in the form of purchases, services required, salaries and numerous other expenditures. Over $200,000 was spent for the remodeling of the store building alone. Wards spends huge amounts in the state of New York every year in the form of purchases. In the state of New York in 1936 $41,046,587 was spent in merchandise purchases.

Mr. Cordeau pointed out the fact that Ward merchandise is completely finished. All merchandise is strenuously tested in the company laboratories before it is offered to the customer. In these laboratories merchandise is subjected to rougher treatment in a period of a few hours than it would actually receive at the hands of its ultimate owner in several years. Expert company designers are also constantly at work, creating new styles, new designs and new packages.

Those that will be present at the grand opening include: R. E. Staley, New York regional manager; M. O. Boxwell, regional manager; O. O. Loken, assistant regional manager; G. R. Ormon, district supervisor and others from the regional and buying offices of the company. Several former "Rose & Gorman" employees will also be with Wards Thursday.

Kingston's First Department Store On the Ward Site

On the site of the new Montgomery Ward store, North Front street at the head of Wall street, was located Kingston's first department store. The late Herbert Carl started his career on this location and built up Kingston's first department store which was known as "The Colossal" because of its then large size. Since the first department store was opened, however, numerous additions have been made to the building and the floor space more than doubled. A large addition was erected at the rear and Mr. Carl later disposed of his interests and the store became Rose-Gorman-Rose. Later the firm name was changed to Rose and Gorman, Inc., and under that name business was continued until the business was disposed of and the store taken over by Montgomery Ward and Company early this year. Since then the store property has been so altered and changed by the rebuilding operations that it is scarcely recognized by the former customers as the same building. Under the management and ownership of Rose & Gorman, Inc., the store became widely known throughout this section as "The Big Store."

A. J. CORDEAU

Mr. Cordeau, the new manager of the new Kingston store, one of the largest in the Ward chain, has been with Wards seven years. He said of his many duties the job he likes best is in his dealings with his own employees. While he comes from Beverly, Mass., New York is his adopted state, having spent four years in the company's stores in this state.

DAVID WARK

FRANK SERRANI

Mr. Wark has been in the Ward Company for six years and while he comes from Massachusetts he has spent practically all his working years in New York state. He and his family now reside in Kingston.

The Hay Ride
The night was wrapped in splendor, youth's voices fresh and gay. Earth's perfume blended sweetly with scent of new-mown hay. Youth's lips were curved with laughter, young hearts stirred with romance. And autumn's magic madness was in each tender glance. My heart awoke to rapture, though youth I dared not own, For I was fat and forty, the young folks' chaperone.

Mandy married a worthless chap, who even refused to deliver the washing she took in. One day she was talking to a white woman about the shiftless man she had.

White Lady—Is he older than you, Mandy?

Mandy—Yes, sir, but I'm 12 years older than I am.

White Lady—Then it must be a case of May having married December.

Mandy—No ma'am, it ain't dat. It am mo' like Labor Day done married to April Fool.

"Footprints on the sands of time are not made by sitting down."

Young Man—I guess you've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?

No answer.

Young Man—I say, I guess you've been out with worse looking fellows than I am, haven't you?

Girl Friend—I heard you the first time. I was just trying to think.

What this nation needs more than anything else is an intelligent citizenship capable of doing its own thinking. We are victims today of a lot of propaganda because too many of us are not intellectually competent. We believe, but we do not reason.

Harold—You say you were once cast away on a desert island, entirely without food. How did you live?

Charles—Oh, I happened to have an insurance policy in my pocket and I found enough provisions on it to keep me alive till I was rescued.

To limit by federal law the length of freight trains to 70 cars, as now proposed in Congress, would increase by at least $125,000,000 annually out-of-pocket railway operating expenses in this country, on the basis of 1930 traffic.

History of "Scotty" Dog

Dates Back to Year 1822

The history of the beloved Scottish terrier is uncertain, although as far back as 1822 there is reference to him. Practically all Scotties are descended in two main male lines, great grandsons of the first registered sire, Bright, who lived around 1870, according to a writer in the Washington Star.

The handsome Newfoundland, on the other hand, has an ancient lineage, and to him goes the honor of being the only dog ever to have had his picture on a stamp—a Newfoundland stamp, of course. His ancestors were probably brought to this continent by Norwegian sailors soon after John Cabot rediscovered Newfoundland in 1497 and the Newfoundland folk used him in place of the horse. Fish being plentiful, he thrived but did not spread to other parts of the world until early in the Nineteenth century, when epidemics and a depression hit the country simultaneously and the courts decided that there mustn't be more than one Newfoundland to a family. Many were given away to shipping crews, and the good natured animals made themselves useful aboard ship by retrieving the rigs that fell overboard. Sailors proudly exhibited the skill of their dogs in the water when they arrived in port, and soon duck hunters had them retrieving game on water in both England and the United States.

Universities, Colleges

Are Slightly Different

A university is defined as an institute organized for teaching and study in higher branches of learning, and empowered to confer degrees in special departments, as theology, law, medicine, and the arts. In the United States, colleges are typically composed of a college and one or more graduate or professional schools, but the term is sometimes loosely used.

The name "college" is applied to an institute of higher learning affiliated with a university. In the United States the college is primarily an institution of higher learning receiving approved graduates of preparatory schools and offering instruction in arts, letters, and science, leading to the bachelor's degree; there is, however, no clear line of demarcation, as institutions have retained the name "college" while extending their instruction to university scope.

In the universities the name "college" is usually given to the division of the institution in the liberal arts and sciences, leading to the bachelor's degree, in some universities the various divisions, including graduate and professional schools are named "colleges."

Meanings Attached to Flowers

Poetry, tradition and popular usage have ascribed different meanings to flowers, though there is no authoritative list or uniform agreement. Here are the names of a few: Anemone, anticipation, frank; apple blossom, admiration; buttercup, wealth; cala lily, magnificence; pride; white camellia, innate worth; cardinal flower, distinction; cornflower, delicacy; cowslip, youthful beauty; daffodil, unrequited love; daisy, simplicity, innocence; dandelion, coquetry; forget-me-not, true love, foxglove, insincerity; geranium, gentility; golden rod, encouragement, health, loneliness; heliotrope, devotion; white heather, good fortune, hollyhock, ambition, honey-suckle, friendship; hyacinth, narcissus, vanity; orange blossom, marriage; rose, love, shamrock, loyalty, and the violet, modesty.

The Air We Breathe

Air is a mixture of gases, mainly nitrogen and oxygen; of these, the former supplies nearly four-fifths of the total, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine. There is a layer of air extending nearly 200 miles beyond the surface of the earth, but at great heights it becomes extremely rarefied. Thus, all men who wish to fly to high altitudes must carry a supply of oxygen. Although we are not aware of it, the air which surrounds us has a definite weight. At sea level a cubic yard of air weighs more than two pounds. Air is essential to all forms of life. If there were no air in the water of streams, ponds, etc., there would be no life in them. Although air has a definite weight, we do not feel it, because it acts inside as well as outside our bodies, and so "strikes a balance."

All Plants Depend Upon Leaves to Produce Food

Plant leaves form a direct link between nature's storerooms of food elements and the food requirements of plant and animal life. All animals are dependent on plants either directly or indirectly for their food, and plants depend upon their leaves to make food out of raw materials.

Plants make many uses of the products they manufacture, the uses varying greatly with the kind of plant. The foods may be made into wood, gums, resins, flowers, fruits, or seeds. They may be stored away as starches or sugars to serve some future need of the plant or to be used in the growth of new plants.

Ten chemical elements are required by plants in this process, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. They are carbon, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, calcium, sulphur, iron, potassium, phosphorus, and magnesium. A few others usually are found, but most plants seem to grow without them. Nature makes ample provision for the two that come from the air—carbon and oxygen. Soils often are deficient in nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium, and sometimes calcium and sulphur. These are added to the soil fertilizers.

Women Haters Are Also Haters of Cats

Cincinnati, Ohio.—The man who has an aversion to cats is likely to have had some trouble with women. That is the belief of Dr. Charles M. Diserens, professor of psychology at the University of Cincinnati.

"Cats," Doctor Diserens explained, "are highly feminine. Men are naturally hostile to women. But, afraid to show their hostility to women, they take it out on cats."

Doctor Diserens has noticed that at least ten men to one woman dislike cats. All of the cat's characteristics, he pointed out, are those that men fear in women. The cat is graceful, beautiful, ingratiating when it wants to be, but dependent and sly.

Now Is Time to Fight the Rats

Ithaca, N. Y.—Late October and early November is the best time for united action against rats, according to Dr. W. J. Hamilton, Jr., of the New York state college of agriculture. Every effort is needed, he says, because rats are among the wisest and wildest of all animals.

A well-marked semi-annual movement has been noted in rats. During late fall, after a few hard frosts, they move from the fields and ditches to the barnyard and village residences to pass the winter. In the spring many of them return to the fields.

Most practical and lasting results of rat repression are gained through a campaign to rat-proof all buildings, Dr. Hamilton says. Poisoning, gassing, blocking, trapping, and other measures give only temporary relief.

"Too much emphasis can not be placed on the cunning and resourcefulness of rats." Any campaign against rats should start with poison, gas, or by blocking; never with traps.

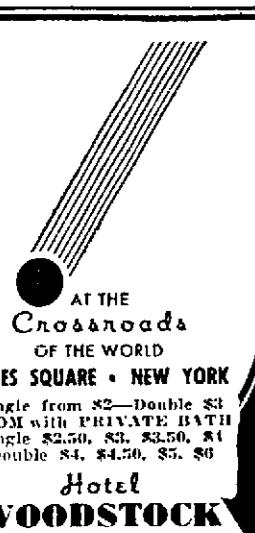

"Poisoning is the most practical and efficient way to destroy the rodents, but the right amount must be thoroughly used with an attractive bait. Fresh fruits make good baits. Melons, tomatoes, pumpkins, cherries, bananas, apples, and green corn are excellent. Pie crust and pumpkin seeds are acceptable, and have been the last earthly meal of scores of rats."

On rat-infested premises fumigants have value if enough concentration of gas can be obtained, says the Cornell zoologist. Calcium cyanide is the most widely used of these gases. Upon exposure to air it gives off the deadly hydrocyanic, or prussic, acid gas. The gas must be used with great care, for it is deadly to all animal life; and its use with a dusting pump is more efficient.

Greater advantage of this gas is its ease of application. In the burrows of the rats, about the poultry yard, in fills, hedgerows, banks, and garbage dumps, under flooring, accumulation of lumber, hay, and straw, it has no equal, says Dr. Hamilton.

"Rat-proofing" of buildings, however, is the only effective way to exclude rats from their food supply. Where food is lacking, rats will not live permanently."

Good apple cider is always in strong demand both for home use and for sale at the roadside and elsewhere, and new ideas about cider making on the farm developed by chemists at the State Experiment Station at Geneva in the course of their studies now make possible far superior to the common run for apple cider offered the consumer, declare the Station chemists.

FAR NORTH SEEN AS NURSERY OF RACES

New Discoveries Made in Alaska and Aleutians.

Washington, D. C.—The Aleutian Islands and Alaska apparently constituted a "nursery" of races. New evidence of this has just been brought back to Washington by Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, curator of physical anthropology of the Smithsonian Institution, who has just returned to Washington after his ninth summer in the Far North in an effort to retrace the steps by which the North American continent was originally populated from Asia.

The expedition spent most of its time on the desolate Aleutian Islands. It made stops, however, at various points in southern Alaska and went as far as the Russian-owned Commander Islands in an effort to find evidence of ancient human occupancy. Aside from the important scientific data, it brought back 51 barrels and boxes of collections. The expedition was made possible by the aid of the coast-guard and the navy. The work was badly interfered with by storms and fog. Nevertheless, much was accomplished.

Populated by Aleuts.

The finds this summer, Doctor Hrdlicka says, make more probable than ever the hypothesis of a "race nursery" in the Far North for the aboriginal population of the New World.

The Aleutian Islands when discovered by the Russians were populated by a broad-headed people, the Aleuts, who do not fall precisely into either the Indian or Eskimo classification. But underlying the Aleut remains throughout the area, Dr. Hrdlicka found the remains of an earlier, oblong-headed race, who had a much longer occupancy. He regards them as a "proto-Asian stock" of the islands. In 1931-1935 he found the same racial stock in the deepest parts of his excavations on Kodiak Island.

What became of this old stock is unknown, but indications are that some of them may have made their way as far south as California. The Aleuts cannot be considered as derived from them; they stand physically too far apart. There is some reason to believe, in fact, that the Aleuts represent a backward migration from Alaska toward Asia,

...there can be little doubt that the "oblong heads" constituted one of the migration waves from the Old world to the New.

Five Distinct Strains.

Thus, Dr. Hrdlicka points out, the Far Northwest today presents five distinct though basically related strains, instead of one or two, as was believed up to a few years ago.

1. The long and high-headed Eskimos of the Seward peninsula, Barrow and eastward along the Arctic coast of Labrador and Greenland.

2. The broad-headed and medium-vaulted Eskimos of the Bering sea coast and along the interior rivers from the Yukon southward.

3. The Aleuts—Broad-headed with low skull vaults.

4. The Alaskan Indians.

5. The oblong-headed pre-Aleuts whose remains were found in the Aleutian chain last summer.

Individuals of all five of these races shade into each other, Dr. Hrdlicka says. It is only when the anthropological averages of larger numbers are taken that the racial distinctions become clear.

In addition, on Agat Island, one of the westernmost of the Aleutian chain, Dr. Hrdlicka found a whole new stone industry belonging to the proto-Asian people. The expedition also found once more a number of mummies and enlarged notably the national collections of Aleutian cultural material.

Fourteen Flavors Are Grown on an Apple Tree

Jonesville, Mich.—It's the graftor who gets the apples—ask George Houseknecht.

Most successful fruit graftor in this part of Michigan, he has a tree bearing 14 kinds of apples, fall, winter, sweet, tart, yellow, red—almost any kind of flavor you may want.

He makes his own grafting wax and has worked out his own technique in choosing the part of the tree best suited for grafting. With some kinds of fruit he chooses a side of the tree on which leaves or small twigs have grown. For others he may select the end of a long limb.

Houseknecht has successfully grafted plums and cherries. With plums he uses the wild variety for the roots and cultivated varieties for the limbs.

Experimenting with cherries he grafted a limb of a black wild cherry tree to a garden variety. The grafted limb bore choke cherries.

They can be of foulard or colored linen or cotton and may harmonize with either your tie or shirt. American Labor Votes Help State Mayoral Bidders

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3 (P)—Votes cast by members of the newly formed American Labor helped carry to victory mayoral candidates of other parties in New York's two largest cities.

American labor party votes were a powerful force in sweeping fiery Fiorello H. La Guardia, Fusionist-Republican mayor of New York, back into office. La Guardia polled 482,459 American Labor party votes, and was re-elected over Tammany-Democrat Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

In Buffalo American Labor party support was thrown to Thomas L. Holling, successful Democratic mayoral candidate. He defeated Edwin F. Jaekle, powerful Erie County Republican chairman, by the narrow margin of 1,427 votes. The American-Labor party gave Holling 7,313 votes.

Dogs Ahead of Us

Dogs probably wagged friendly tails or barked at the first American settlers who landed on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, because, although cattle, horses and other domestic animals were introduced to this continent from Europe, the dog was here ahead of us, comfortably established in many a tepee, asserts a writer in the Washington Star. Dogs owned by the Indians were about the size of a small collie; were usually white and had long coats. They have virtually disappeared, and the Mexican hairless and chihuahua are the only so-called native dogs in existence, although they, too, may have been imported. All other dogs known as American have been produced from experiments with breeds not native to this continent.

Rock Wool Plant Republicans Elect At Rosendale Is to Reopen Next Week

The rock wool plant at Rosendale, which has been shut down since March of this year, will probably reopen for business the first of next week, according to Gordon M. Henning of Rosendale, who will be production manager for the new operators of the plant. At the start the plant will operate with a single shift of men running six days a week, a small force being employed. Within a month or less it is hoped to have the plant running at full capacity, operating three shifts and employing about 20 men six days a week. Rosendale and Tillson men will be employed, with Henry Burnell of Tillson mill superintendent.

Improvements have been made to the plant mechanically, some new methods of operation will be put into force and with materials already ordered no hitch in the plan to start up next week is anticipated.

The new operators of the plant are Dugan-Smith Corp., of 1183 Nostrand avenue, Brooklyn, who have leased the plant from A. J. Snyder of Rosendale. Mr. Snyder having purchased the property last April. The company has Kingston office at 200 Ten Broeck avenue.

The Rosendale rock wool plant is the only one of its kind in this section of the state and when running at capacity can produce about 12 tons of rock wool a day. There is said to be a good demand for the product.

The Rosendale plant was built by John Katonah of White Plains and began operations in the summer of 1936. Demand for the product was such that at one time the plant was running seven days a week, but difficulties developed and it closed down in March of this year, later the land and building being purchased by Mr. Snyder.

Mr. Henning, new production manager for the plant, was formerly with the Century Cement Co. of Rosendale.

4 Bargeemen Rescued.

Barcelona, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Coast guard crews battled high seas in Lake Erie today and rescued four bargeemen from three helpless, drifting towboats.

The storm-whipped lake later drove the battered craft ashore two miles east of here.

The derelict boats were part of a tow of four, heavily loaded barges that broke loose in the boisterous seas and were blown away from the tug Balloons of Buffalo, which was taking them to Cleveland.

Victims Sought.

Madrid, Nov. 3 (AP)—Rescuers searched bomb-shattered buildings of the Catalan City of Girona today for additional victims of an insurgent air raid already reported by the government to have taken 125 lives.

Hospitals were filled with injured men, women and children.

Roosevelt Relaxed.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt, after excitement of a state and local election, set aside today for rest and relaxation at his country home.

He arranged no appointments before his departure for Washington tomorrow, ending an 11-day visit here.

Revenue Recommendations.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Treasury experts put finishing touches today on new revenue recommendations which may call for substantial changes in the existing tax structure.

Hearings will start tomorrow before a House ways and means sub-committee headed by Rep. Vinson (D., Ky.).

The treasury recommendations are expected to show whether the administration intends to lighten the tax load on business, and whether new taxes will be sought in an effort to balance the budget in the next fiscal year.

If new taxes are recommended, they may fall on persons with incomes between $5,000 and $100,000.

Taps for Tammany.

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—For the first time in the memory of its oldest Sachem, Stately Tammany Hall was practically deserted on election night.

As the returns came in indicating that Tammany not only had lost the mayoralty and the office of district attorney, but even the Manhattan borough presidency in a clean sweep, leader Christopher D. Sullivan and most of the executive committee left early.

By 10 o'clock only two politicians, two newspapermen and the caretaker were left. The politicians left at 10:30, and the caretaker then ousted the newspapermen and turned off the lights.

Federal Income.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Treasury reported today its income for the fiscal year which began July 1, passed the $2,000,000,000 mark November 1.

On that date, $2,007,393,652 of the $6,650,410,000 receipts estimated by President Roosevelt.

Plurality Per District.

An analysis of incomplete returns on election of delegates at-large to the constitutional convention showed that in the 3,473 districts reporting the average plurality per district for the Republican slate was 58.

Should this average be maintained in the districts unreported, the upstate districts would send the Republican delegates to the Bronx county line with a plurality of 300,000.

The 3,605 New York city districts reported gave the Democratic slate an average of 62.3 for each district. If this average should be maintained in the unreported 302 districts, the Democratic city majority would be in the vicinity of 244,000, or 56,000 less than the upstate Republican plurality.

Twenty-eight of the 51 Senate districts which elected three delegates each showed the seating of 76 delegates—only nine short of the 85 necessary to control the convention which meets next April to revise the state's organic law.

The American Labor Party vote played an important part in the selection of delegates-at-large, the party having endorsed two Republican and seven Democratic nominees.

Republicans appealed for election of their nominees to the convention on the ground that a Democratic majority would write a reapportionment amendment tending to deprive Republicans of fair Assembly legislative representation.

Governor Lehman ridiculed the convention, however, saying he would oppose any attempt by any party to use the convention to gain political advantage by re-arrangement of legislative districts.

The result of the election was a disappointment to Postmaster General James A. Farley, national chairman, a generally unerring political strategist, who came in September 14.

Food Prices Decline.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Retail food prices declined 1.1 per cent in the period from September 14 to August 12, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The bureau said the decline, attributed largely to lower prices of meats, fruits and vegetables, was general throughout the country, lower average costs being reported from 45 of 51 cities surveyed.

Meat prices have declined 2.3 per cent since September 14.

The result of the election was a disappointment to Postmaster General James A. Farley, national chairman, a generally unerring political strategist, who came in September 14.

SINO-JAP CONFLICT HITS AMERICA HARD

Cuts Off Supplies Needed in Industry and Home

Washington, D. C.—Long duration of the Sino-Japanese conflict will be keenly felt in America, for China supplies materials that play an important part in American home and industrial life, according to the National Geographic society.

The electric light in your home may be made with a filament of tungsten of which China is the chief source. Your daily newspaper may be printed with types alloyed with Chinese antimony. Your favorite chair is likely to be finished with quick-drying varnish containing Chinese tung oil, and your feet may rest on a carpet woven of Chinese wools. You may tidy up for dinner with soap containing Chinese soap, or clean your teeth with a toothbrush of Chinese bristles, climb into bed under a blanket of short staple Chinese cotton, and go to sleep on a pillow stuffed with down from Chinese ducks.

Next morning at breakfast you find that the conflict in China has invaded your kitchen. Tea from China is no surprise, but the bread for your toast may have been made with eggs either frozen or dried in Shanghai. Sausage for breakfast may have come in casings shipped by the barrelful from Chinese ports.

Touch American Diet.
"Other items of American diet affected by conditions in China are candied ginger, practically all of which bears a Chinese trademark on fat round jars; walnuts, of which China supplies about half of the United States' imports; oil of cassia and licorice, which are used as flavoring; cassia, the bark of which is ground into spice and used under the name of 'Chinese cinna- mon'; cayenne pepper, mustard seed, anise seed, and edible oils used for salads, cooking, in making butter substitutes, such as peanut oil. Only four decades ago an American missionary introduced the peanut into China, and now that country is the second most important source of peanut oil imported into the United States.

"Most important item of the China-to-America food trade, however, is the egg, a major money crop worth almost two million dollars annually. There are more chickens in China than there are Chinese. China is the world's greatest egg exporter, having almost a monopoly on supplies of egg yolk and eggs while dried or frozen separately. In addition to the use made of them in American bakeries and confectioneries, the former is employed in tanning leather and the latter in dyeing cotton cloth, thickening ink, surfacing paper, and making photographic plates.

"Although tank steamers seek Chinese ports in the Yangtze valley to tap the world's main supply of tung oil, and bring back million-dollar cargoes, the United States is not entirely dependent on China for this important ingredient of paints, varnishes, and waterproofing and insulating materials. In six southern states tung tree plantations last year supplied one-sixtieth of our tung oil needs.

Furs and Skins.

"Furs, for which China annually collects the second largest bill from the United States importers, supply American coat makers with several million weasel, lamb, kid, kolinsky, and sheep skins. One of the fur trader's best friends is the Chinese dog, 66,000 of which in one year gave their thick dark coats to keep Americans warm.

"Second only to India is China's share of soft kid and goat skin imported to make dainty slippers and fine gloves. A by-product which supports a major industry is bristles of the lowly North China hog, which Americans use in brushes for every purpose—hair and nail, shaving and paint. The stiff white tips are sterilized and bleached for tooth brushes. Another by-product in which China leads is feathers for bedding.

"Both cotton and wool are imported from China because the oriental varieties are suitable for wool carpets and light cotton blankets. American women promote a rich trade in musk for making perfumes. Of human hair, since becomes unfashionable in 1911, China has had almost a world monopoly, exporting almost two million pounds annually to the United States. Chinese women at home in nuts or cottages or crowded city shacks make felt and Irish lace, or huddle over spider-weby drawn thread embroidery and microscopic cross stitch design for export to America."

Electric Eye Being Used as School's Tattle-Tale

Pittsburgh.—The new Penn high school, in Penn township, near here, has an electric eye which, according to John H. Phillips, the architect, will be the school's "tattle-tale." Architect Phillips builds schools exclusively. "There is almost no limit," says he, "to what such an arrangement of light beams can do. This particular electric eye has been so arranged that it will register if a pupil even gets out of his seat, sending a message to the principal's office or, should someone smoke a cigarette, the electric eye will see it and tell."

Horse Show Opens In Garden Tonight

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Old Equus Caballus—in everyday language, the horse—puts on his white tie and tails today for eight days and nights of showing off in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

Society also will be on show at the evening sessions, for the horse show is regarded as one of the more important events of the winter social season.

Because of the international military jumping contests, a slightly feature involving teams from the United States, Canada, the Netherlands, Belgium and the Irish Free State, the jumpers again will be the center of interest rather than the high stepping hackneys, the dapper harness ponies or the handsome saddle horses.

Although several events will be held this morning and afternoon, the formal opening of the show is scheduled for tonight when the military teams will parade.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

New York—He may not hold a record, but until some one who can pitch them better comes along, Sid Luckman will do as Columbia's passer. In six games so far this season, Sid has thrown 121 passes and completed 57 of them for aggregate gains of 740 yards.

Durham, N. C.—Duke's second stringers are due to get their reward this week. Against the weak Washington and Lee team last week, the regulars played two quarters and the second team two. The score was 25 to 18 for the reserves and 18 for the first squad, so this week Coach Wallace Wade plans to alternate the two teams against Wake Forest, giving them practically equal ranks.

Mobile, Ala.—Those Spring Hill college players apparently don't care how much punishment they take. Beaten six times already, they're scheduled to play Mississippi College here Friday night, take a 250-mile bus ride to Jackson, Miss., the next day and play Millaps there Saturday night. The "doubleheader" was scheduled because the Badgers wanted to play both rivals and couldn't arrange the dates any other way.

Want To Impress The Horsey Set?

It's Easy If You've Got $75,000

By CHARLES NORMAN

AP Feature Service Writer

New York—If you don't want to spend your kingdom on a horse, the National Horse Show will have to get along without your entry.

Of course, you can get on the program at Madison Square Garden the week of November 3-10 by investing a mere $1,675, to compete in the open jumping class; but if you really wanted to impress the horsey set and the ordinary people who fill the Garden to capacity during the National, you could shoot $75,000 and go on from there.

Saves on Your Hat

Let's start easy and look at the open jumping items. First of all, you would need a mount. That's a horse. A trained jumper (like wise a horse), would cost around $1,000. A saddle, $75; bridle, $20. To ride in the show you'd need a riding coat of tweed, $25-$30; riding breeches, $15 up; boots, $25 up. You can save on the hat. An ordinary felt hat is smart and will pass muster.

For the duration of the show, a stall for the horse costs $20. A groom, to look after your horse, rates $15. Entry fee will be another $10. Keep for your horse the year 'round will amount to $40 a month.

Just so you won't be in the cheapest (comparatively speaking) class, you can exhibit a hunter. A hunter is a horse that knows a thing or two. Top hunters are worth as much as $10,000.

UNDERSTAND THE MAESTRO
IS TOYING WITH THE IDEA OF TRADING THE ROLLS IN AS A DOWN PAYMENT ON A HORSE.

But if you just want to go along for the ride, you can get a good hunter for $2,500 up. Maybe you'll even win a ribbon.

They Look Pretty

The same costume you got for the jumper will do for the hunter, unless you are in a hunt-tent class. In the latter case, you'll have to wear a pink coat, $75; white breeches, $40; black boots with tan tops, $95; top hat (reinforced and cork-lined), $20; waistcoat, $15; leather flask cover, $20, and leather sandwich case, $20. The use of the flask and sandwich case appears doubtful, but they look pretty and are in the rules.

Then there are saddle horses, and this begins to bring us to the big-money classes. A good saddle horse brings about $15,000. If you exhibit a saddle horse in the evening classes, you have to dress up in a suit resembling a tuxedo, except that the jacket has longer skirts, as they're called, and the trousers are narrow and fit the calf. This, with top hat, will set you back $100. If you exhibit your saddle horse during a matinee, you need a colored riding coat and jodhpurs.

Transportation to shows around the country calls for two big vans, about the size of moving vans. In

THIS IS A HUNTER
Sun Faun, shown here with Owner Gerard S. Smith up, is expected to enter the 1937 National Horse Show.

It's Got Conformation

The aristocrat of the horses at the show is the hackney. Some people may think a hackney is a kind of coach, but to the horsey van cost around $10,000.

Here is your minimum requirement for vehicles:

HAVE MORE FUN THIS WINTER;
TEACH YOURSELF TO DANCE WELL

Orchids to Ted and Maria. A week ago they waltzed jerkily, with such funny hopping motion they had everybody smiling. Now they're smooth as silk.

What happened? They sent for the simple dance diagrams and instructions used by a famous teacher. Then they practised each step—and with the diagram before them—until they were letter-perfect.

Gone are the bobs and jerks. To get that floating, swaying motion that makes the waltz so enchanting they take a long step on the first beat of each measure, slightly bending the knee of the supporting leg. On the second and third beat they straighten knees.

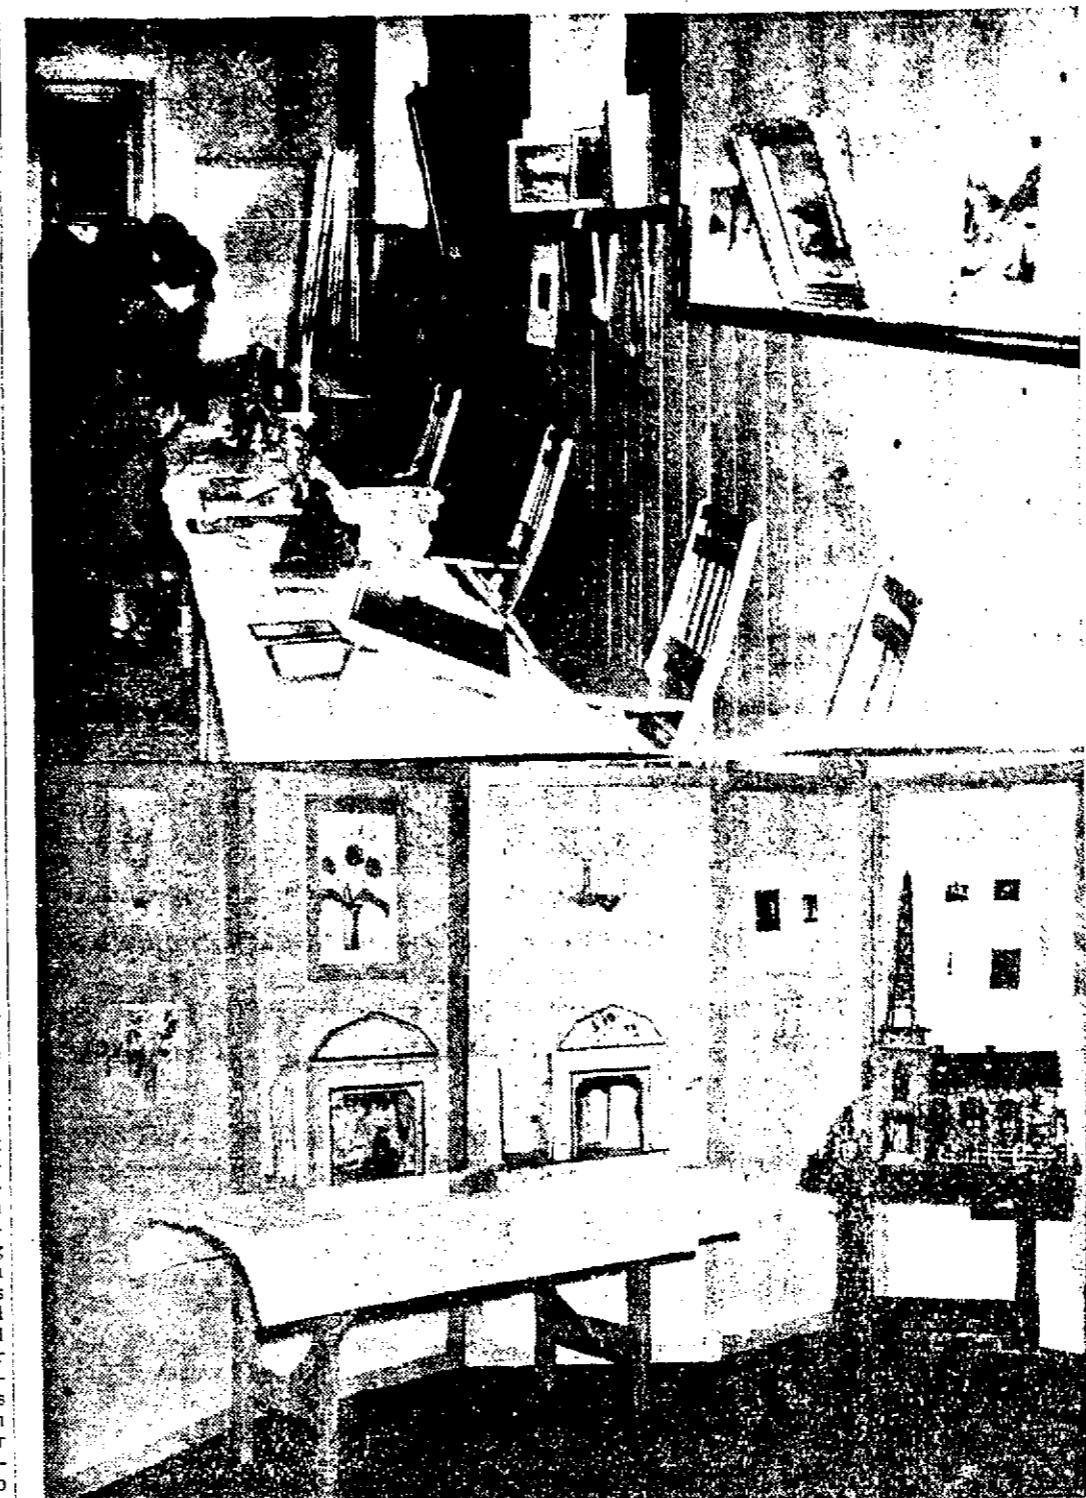

Try it yourself in the simplest waltz step—the Open Waltz that's diagramed. Once you get it you swirl easily from Open Waltz to Forward Waltz; you're a vision of grace in the Turn and Hesitation Point.

In the same quick, simple way you can learn to dance the swingy fox-trot, the subtle tango, the sensuous rumba. Diagrams show you just how to place your feet, how to keep time.

In our 40-page booklet, Social Dancing Self-taught, a well-known teacher gives diagrams and instructions for 26 popular dance steps—rumba, waltz, fox-trot, and tango. A home course that turns you into an accomplished dancer.

Send 15 cents for our booklet, Social Dancing Self-taught, to Kingston Daily Freeman Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.
